WESTERN RESOURCES CHALLENGES
ADT'S REVISIONS TO "POISON PILL"

TOPEKA, Kansas, March 11, 1997 (8:30 am CST) -- Western Resources
(NYSE:WR) yesterday filed an amended complaint in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida to invalidate ADT's recent revision to its "poison pill".

The ADT "poison pill" amendment adds what are known as "dead hand" provisions, which attempt to reserve to the current ADT board members the exclusive right to redeem the plan even if they are voted out of office by shareowners who favor Western Resources' offer for ADT.

"These revisions clearly are intended to interfere with the shareowner vote on Western Resources' proposal to replace the ADT board of directors and is yet another example of ADT's contempt for shareowner voting rights," said John E. Hayes, Jr., Western Resources chairman of the board and chief executive officer.

"Our view is that these "dead hand" provisions are invalid because they serve no purpose but to entrench management and, consequently, infringe on the rights of shareowners. Western Resources remains committed to ensuring that ADT's shareowners have the opportunity to consider Western Resources' proposed offer for ADT, regardless of the obstacles that the ADT board chooses to place in our path," said Hayes.

Western Resources (NYSE:WR) is a full-service, diversified energy company with total assets of almost $6 billion. Its utilities, KPL and KGE, operating in Kansas and Oklahoma, provide natural gas service to approximately 650,000 customers and electric service to approximately 600,000 customers. Through its unregulated subsidiaries, Westar Energy, Westar Security, Westar Capital, and The Wing Group, a full range of energy, security and related products and services are developed and marketed in the continental U.S., and offshore.
